AUTUMN SEWING CELEBRATION

Alice Irvine

How to hack! Principles of customising sewing patterns

This will be a presentation guiding viewers through the principles of hacking. Lots of sewists have ideas for slightly altering a pattern but find the thought of it too daunting to try, while others just don't realise the potential hidden within many designs!

Alice talks about ways to interpret designs, and show the basic principles she has picked up, meaning she can create endless possibilities with just one pattern.

Alice has been sewing since her teens, but the sewing bug really bit about 5 years ago, and she hasn't looked back! She studied Fashion at university, gaining a first-class BA

Honours, and she loves looking to high fashion, runway and ready-to-wear for inspiration. She mostly makes clothes, but also loves making homewares and upcycling.
